

Sarasota Flying Wood Chips Newsletter

Volume 2 Issue 5

June 2019

Summer greetings from Vermont, fellow Woodturners! Yes, the wild rumors you have heard from Mad Joe are, in fact, true! Your president will be back in town soon for a "return appearance." I look forward to reconnecting with all of you diehards who tough out the summer down there, and maybe meeting some new members.

Lest you think I have been a total slacker in my absence, I have included a few photos of what I have been working on. The first shows another resin piece. Since my demo at our next meeting will be a continuation of previous discussions with our hosts at Advantage Lumber, this picture should be a hint at what I will be doing. I Hope some of you have taken advantage of their offer of resin to try your hand at this.

Next, a Saturn bowl I did for my club (woodchucksvt.org) demo in Vermont last month.

The red bowl is an example of Dave Buchholz's raindrop technique that he demonstrated at our May meeting. Dave came to Sarasota last January and did a demo and workshop for us. I thought after hosting and introducing him several times, and helping others make one, I should do one myself!

The next picture shows another way to incorporate resin into a wood turning, followed by a new take on the "dizzy" bowl.

And just to reassure you that it is not all work and NO play, I did do another motorcycle trip in early June.

The last photo shows a huge burl I saw in a park on the grounds of one of our hotels in the foothills of the Pyrenees in Spain (www.monestirdelesavellanes.com). I could not identify the tree species, but from the scale of the trash barrel you can tell the burl was well over three feet across! How many cores could you make out of that one Steve?

As always, a huge thanks to Dave Hausmann for the great work he puts into this newsletter! For those back in your summer studios somewhere in the "tundra", take a few photos to send to Dave (dhausmann@comcast.net) for the next issue?

Best to all! See some of you in a week, the rest in the Fall.
